

Social Software and Libraries

What's the big deal about social software and web 2.0? Don't miss this opportunity to explore the use of social software in Libraries to enhance community interaction. The seminar doesn't require technical expertise on your part and is designed for staff who want to find out how these technologies might be used to enhance services to clients. This seminar will provide a valuable lead-in to the Library 2.0 Unconference the next day for those attending both events.

When: 10am – 3.45pm, Wednesday 10th October 2007

Where: Queensland University of Technology, Gardens Point Campus, Room V714, Level 7, V Block (Library Building). Lunch will be provided.

Should libraries embrace social software, blogs, wikis, RSS feeds, tagging, user reviews, mashups and other Web 2.0 technologies? Is this what our clients really want or are we just trying to be cool? Does the potential benefit for clients outweigh the staff time and resources needed to implement and maintain these technologies? Or are we doing a lot of work for a small number of people?
3.30 – 3.45	Thanks and close
